

I think the better for the service is to divide the band according to the width of the signal. So I would like to see a portion for CW and other narrow Digital modes and another for SSB and wide Digital modes.